

Contents

Introduction (Éva Pócs and Bea Vidacs) . . . . .	7
ANTIQUÉ DOUBTS
Anna Judit Tóth: Faith and Doubt in the Culture of Classical Antiquity . . . . .	19
JEWS, CHRISTIANS, MUSLIMS
János Oláh: Reinforcing Faith – Traditional Ashkenazi Food . . . . .	39
Ildikó Csepregi: The Role of Doubt in Miracle Narratives. . . . .	59
Gábor Klaniczay: Doubts in the Reality of Stigmata – Stigmata as a Weapon against Doubt . . . . .	69
Péter Tóth G.: Swindlers, Lunatics and “Losers”. On the Margins of the Fight Against Superstition in Hungary under Emperor Joseph II (1780–1790) . . . .	91
Dániel Bárh: Enthusiasm and Rationality. Changes in Catholic Ecclesiastical Thinking on Exorcism in the Second Half of the Eighteenth Century . . . .	123
Ágnes Hesz: Uncertainty and the Conceptualizations of Life after Death in a Transylvanian Catholic Village Community . . . . .	145
Bea Vidacs: Faith and Doubt in the Light of Sincerity and Agency in the 2015 Lenten Teachings of a Hungarian Seer . . . . .	165
Eszter Spät: Religious Crossover in Northern Iraq: Interfaith Practices of Beseeking the Supernatural . . . . .	189
ALTERNATIVES TO CHRISTIAN BELIEF
Anne-Marie Losonczy: Dealing with Doubt through Performative Misunderstandings. . . . .	219
Ilona Nagy: The Creation of the Earth: Dilemmas of the Creator God . . . . .	229
Éva Pócs: Faith and Doubt, Pretence and Market Strategies in the Practice of the Táltos . . . . .	239
Edward Bever: Scrying and the “Sieve and Shears”: Sociocultural Roles and Neurophysiological Bases of Traditional Divinatory Techniques . . . . .	261

Eszter Győrfy: Faith, Doubt and the Dynamics of Change in the Interpretations of a Woman's Illness. . . . .	273
Ildikó Tamás: The Voice of the Devil (?) The Sami Song in the "Cross"-fire of Various Discourses . . . . .	299
Judit Kis-Halas: "I was Angry with the Angels for F*cking Me Over." Angel-cult and UFO-religion in Hungary. . . . .	327
László Koppány Csáji: "What Do You Think about it, You, who are Inside and Outside at the Same Time?" (Responses to the Revelations of "Prophet dénes" by the Participants of His New Religious Movement – A Discourse Analysis) . . . . .	353
Judit Farkas: "I believe in it because I know." Faith and Knowledge in the Lives of Hungarian Krishna Devotees . . . . .	395
Gallery . . . . .	411