

Schmidt Éva Könyvtár 10.

STUDIES ON OB-UGRIC CULTURE

A Selection of Éva Schmidt's Publications

Edited by:

Márta Csepregi and Mária Sipos

ELTE Research Centre for Linguistics
ELTE Research Centre for the Humanities
Budapest
2025

Published with the support of the following:

NKFIH 2020-2.1.1-ED-2021-00189

ELTE Research Centre for the Humanities, Institute of Ethnology &
ELTE Research Centre for Linguistics 2022–2024

Translated by:
Melinda Széll

Technical editing and cover design:
Krisztina Fancsek

The cover design is based on Figure 2 from the article
“Bear Cult and Mythology of the Northern Ob-Ugrians.”
Reference number for Éva Schmidt’s drawing in the Institute of Ethnology
Archive at the Hungarian Academy of Sciences: MTA NTI K 3728

ISBN 978-615-6678-14-0

Published by Balázs Balogh and Gábor Prószéky
Copyright © ELTE Research Centre for the Humanities
Institute of Ethnology
Copyright © ELTE Research Centre for Linguistics
Copyright © Éva Schmidt’s estate
All rights reserved

Printed by:
Prime Rate Kft.
Managing director: Dr. Tomcsányi Péter

TABLE OF CONTENTS

A Look at the Life's Work of Éva Schmidt Through Thirteen Lenses (Márta Csepregi)	7
Introductory Works
The Khanty and Mansi Peoples	17
Anyone Can Be a Poet	21
History of Ob-Ugric Research
Thoughts from the Field on the Heroic Age of the Khanty People and of Khanty Studies	29
József Pápay's Khanty Collection and Its Ethnographic Considerations	53
The Bequest of V. N. Černecov's Mansi Folklore Collection	61
Nikolaj Ivanovič Terěškin	79
Mythology
Bear Cult and Mythology of the Northern Ob-Ugrians	87
A Khanty Bear Song from the Little Sos'va	153
Folklore Studies
Trends in 20th Century Ob-Ugric Oral Tradition	189
The Other Side of Khanty Metrics	221
Plot Types and Function of the Song-Folktale Genre in Northern Khanty Folklore	237
Cultural Revitalization
The Northern Khanty Folklore Archive in Belojarskij, 1991–	249
The Archetype of the "Archive": Reflections on a New Type of Institution and Its Contemporary Problems	257